Types of Delegates

Chrome River offers three types of delegation to allow users to create and approve expense reports for each other.

• Delegate: Create expense reports for another user and access his or her Settings menu, Home screen and Inquiry Reports. You will receive copies of any e-mail notifications regarding approval, rejection or adjustment of reports created for the user. However, you will not be able to approve expenses that are routed to the user.

• Super Delegate: Same privileges as above, but you may work as a delegate for any user in the company without needing to be authorized as a delegate by each user.

• Approval Delegate: Temporarily approve expenses for another user—for example, when he or she is on vacation—via email. You will not be able to access the user’s Approval screen.
Delegate

When other users have authorized you to work as their delegate, you will see their names under your name when you tap it in the upper right hand corner.

To the right of each user's name you will see the total number of their unused expense transactions and the total number of their unsubmitted reports. You will not see these totals next to your own user name.

Unused expense transactions, including credit cards, email memos, cash advances, travel data and approved pre-approvals

Unsubmitted reports, including draft and returned reports

Chrome River will send an email to the approval delegate describing the routing changes that will occur during this period. All expenses and pre-approvals assigned to you will automatically queue up for the delegate to approve. Regular approval emails will also be sent to the delegate.

Remove Approval Delegate

At the end of the period you specified, the system will automatically deauthorize your approval delegate, and the approval process will return to default status. However, all reports and pre-approvals that were routed during that period remain in the approval delegate’s approval queue for further action.

If you return earlier than expected or simply wish to revoke your approval delegate's access, tap the red circle next to his or her name.
