CALL TO ORDER
Mr. Victor Branch, Chair, called the Richard Bland College Committee meeting to order at 9:02 a.m.

The meeting was held in accordance with Item 4-0.01.g of the 2020 Appropriation Act, which provides governing boards with the ability to hold meetings electronically without a quorum present while the Commonwealth is under a State of Emergency.

APPROVAL OF MINUTES
Recognizing that a quorum was present, Mr. Branch asked for a motion to approve the minutes of the electronic meeting of November 23, 2020. Motion was made by Ms. Lisa E. Roday, seconded by Dr. Karen Kennedy Schultz, and approved by roll call - 6-0 - vote conducted by Secretary to the Board Mr. Michael J. Fox. Mr. Brian P. Woolfolk was not present at the meeting.
CHAIRMAN BRANCH’S REMARKS
Chairman Branch thanked President Debbie L. Sydow and her leadership team for rising to the challenges and obstacles of the pandemic over the last year, and for delivering on commitments to keep RBC moving forward. He extended special thanks to Mr. Jeff Brown, Director of Campus Safety and Police Chief, for his leadership with the Statesman Safe and Secure Task Force and for keeping RBC’s faculty, staff and students safe. Mr. Branch also thanked the leaders of the Racial Justice and Equity Task Force for maintaining a consistent focus and commitment to this important initiative.

PRESIDENT’S REMARKS
President Sydow thanked Chairman Branch for his essay that was recently published in Virginia Business magazine entitled “A Moment for Change.” Borrowing a quote from his essay, Dr. Sydow thanked him for leading the way in staking out “a better place for those who come after us; for our children to know that their ‘place’ is anywhere their talent and drive can take them.” She described the essay as words of inspiration that also challenge one to reflect on their own experiences with racism, and to be mindful and diligent in the pursuit of racial justice.

REPORT FROM THE PRESIDENT and ADMINISTRATION
Dr. Christina Hubbard, Senior Director for Strategic Research at the Education Advisory Board (EAB), presented research-based information about the market pressures informing new strategies for two-year colleges. She noted that 85% of today’s students are so-called “post-traditional,” meaning that they lead complex family and work lives that compete with their academic lives. At the same time, the trend is for the majority of degree completers, who go back to school, to choose a two-year college. EAB’s research findings and recommendations confirm that RBC Online is launching at the right time.

Dr. Evanda Watts-Martinez, Director of Counseling Services, and Dr. Thomas Addington, Instructor of English, provided an update on the RBC Racial Justice & Equity Task Force, and Mr. Brown provided an update on the Statesman Safe & Secure Plan. The work of both groups is proceeding on schedule. President Sydow praised task force leaders – Evanda Watts-Martinez, Thom Addington, and Jeff Brown – for their extraordinary commitment to elevating RBC, and preserving its integrity, by aligning institutional thinking and actions with the College’s espoused values.

President Sydow reported that spring enrollment projections were met, and, as indicated in the operating budget summary, RBC is on track to balance the FY21 budget. She stated that once the General Assembly concludes the 2021 session and state funding is known, the FY22 budget will be finalized for presentation to the Committee, and the Board, in April. President Sydow noted that Paul Edwards and the RBC Finance Team continue to refine the budget development process, a process that is transparent and aligned with sound business practices.

Mr. Eric Kondzielawa, Director of Operations and Capital Assets, provided an update on a signage and wayfinding project that began last year, and reported that in May construction will begin on RBC’s new Academic Innovation Center. This library renovation – and the addition of specialized space for hybrid course development and delivery - dovetails with the growth of RBC Online. The new Center’s anticipated opening is fall of 2022.

President Sydow thanked the Board for acting to approve RBC’s Faculty Early Retirement Incentive Program (FERIP) in November, and she reported that the final program approval was granted by Governor Northam earlier this month.
President Sydow reminded Committee members that RBC’s virtual Commencement 2021 is scheduled to air online May 22. The goal is to leverage technology to honor the work and achievement of RBC graduates. Supreme Court of Virginia Justice Cleo Elaine Powell will serve as RBC’s Commencement Speaker.

President Sydow reported that RBC is on track over the coming months to launch a statewide shared services consortium for higher education. She noted that this development is nothing short of groundbreaking for a small college, such as RBC, because it will ensure that the lion’s share of resources are directed toward mission-critical operations.

Finally, President Sydow reported that Statesman athletics will add men’s baseball as an intercollegiate sport next year. She added that head coach John Fletcher is a great addition to the coaching staff, and that the entire campus community is eager to welcome these new student-athletes who will compete in the 2022 spring baseball season.

FACULTY REPRESENTATIVE REPORT
Dr. Tiffany R. Birdsong, Faculty Representative, highlighted the RBC Library’s launch of the Community Conversations Series, an exciting new way for the entire RBC community to engage in a dialogue about a common resource. The series launched in January with special efforts to choose works that can be accessed in different modalities. Carly Baskerville, Head Librarian, and Kyle Binaxis, Student Success Librarian, have created digital resources to support the Community Conversations Series via blog posts and other engaging resources.

STUDENT REPRESENTATIVE REPORT
Ms. Sarah Moncure, Student Representative, highlighted the effects of COVID-19 on the student population, with a focus on how COVID-19 has impacted the start of the spring semester. She stated that RBC students are now looking ahead to the future with hope, optimism and resilience. ASPIRE program student leaders are working with the administration to coordinate student community service opportunities that will bond participants and improve the look and feel of campus.

Following her report Ms. Moncure introduced three students who elaborated on topics she had highlighted in her report. Ms. Jamaica Jones, a second-year student, spoke about the RBC Racial Justice & Equity Spring Presentation Series and Student Racial Justice Committee recently formed. Ms. Kennedy Bullington, a first-year student, spoke about the efforts taken by RBC to offer outside spaces and activities to allow students to safely socialize during the pandemic. Mr. Iyosias Assfa, a first-year student, spoke about the career programs offered at RBC.

CLOSING REMARKS
Chairman Branch closed by thanking President Sydow and the leadership team for their extraordinary achievements and dedication during exceptionally difficult times, and he thanked the Board for their continued passion and support to the team.

ADJOURNMENT
There being no further business, Mr. Branch adjourned the meeting at 10:20 a.m.
Looking Ahead with Hope and Enthusiasm

“The secret of change is to focus all of your energy, not on fighting the old, but on building the new.” – Socrates

During this spring semester the faculty have put significant energy into providing the best educational experience for students, while looking forward to the fall with hopes for returning to a safe, more normal semester. Summer and fall registration are well underway and there will be many more courses offered in-seat, while also continuing to offer more flexible course modes, including asynchronous and synchronous online, blended, and hybrid courses. Spring is a time of change and the same has been true for our beautiful campus, which is currently in bloom. With change comes opportunity for evaluation and growth, and this semester has resulted in faculty taking a more active role in student success and services on campus. Through various initiatives aimed at promoting learner success, faculty continue to consider how they can best serve our students on their educational and personal journeys. Below is a selection of some of ways faculty continue to work towards providing the best experience for our students.

Learner Success Lab

One of the largest initiatives occurring across campus is the launch of The American Council of Education’s Learner Success Lab (ACE-LSL), which is focused on Learner Success, Guided Pathways, and the implementation of RBC’s strategic plan, Seize Your Potential. While this large-scale project includes representation from across campus, faculty have taken active leadership roles in supporting this important initiative. There is representation from all academic departments on the core leadership team, with five faculty members serving on the LSL Steering Committee. In addition to the Steering Committee, there are four LSL Sub-Committees connected to student success targets, including Curriculum, Co-Curriculum & Mobility, Leadership & Structure, Community Partnerships, and Faculty & Staff Support. Despite being devoted to teaching responsibilities and other scholarly pursuits, there are faculty serving as Co-chairs on all of the LSL Sub-Committees. ACE’s Model for Comprehensive Learner Success illustrates a strategic, coordinated process to align policies, practices, and resources to position colleges and universities to better facilitate learner success, and our faculty are dedicated to engaging in this process to enhance learner success at RBC.

Professional Development

The last year has resulted in faculty exploring pedagogy that was new to many of us. In the spirit of lifelong learning, many faculty members requested professional development opportunities aimed at providing high-quality online learning. With the support of the department chairs and administration, 19 faculty members representing all three academic departments are registered to complete the Duke Continuing Studies Online Learning Certificate. This certificate offers instruction on the major models, tools, and techniques in creating and delivering online learning, as well as the fundamentals of general learning theory and how it can be applied, in practice, to online design and instruction. Faculty are grateful for this opportunity and will share their experiences in this course with their colleagues during August’s Faculty Development events.

Highlighting our Exceptional Students

Faculty across all departments participated in nominating students for Academic Excellence Awards for the 2020-21 Academic Year. On April 28th eleven students will receive trophies for academic excellence in the following areas: Communication, English, Foreign Language, Religion and Philosophy, Life Science, Math and Computer Science, Physical Science, Business and Economics, History and Government, Psychology and Sociology, and Visual and Performing Arts. During a year that included many obstacles for students, the faculty are overjoyed to be granting these awards to these exceptional students.

Scholarly Presentations

On March 20, Dr. Dan Franke presented a paper at the Georgia Medievalists Group entitled “The Crusades, the Far Right, and the Ethics of History in the 21st Century.” Dr. Franke noted that the presentation was “very well received by an audience of approximately 40 people via Microsoft Teams.”

On February 17, Dr. Vanessa Stout presented to the Department of Sociology Seminar Series at Trinity College Dublin. Dr. Stout’s presentation was entitled “Mapping and Remapping Home: Examining Nigerian Immigrants Housing and Leisure Space in Los Angeles and Dublin.”
REPORT OF THE RBC STUDENT REPRESENTATIVE
April 2021

Sarah Moncure
W&M Board of Visitors, RBC Student Representative

Campus Engagement
Despite the absence of spring break due to the Covid-19 pandemic, the RBC community has been finding ways to decompress and have fun as the weather gets warm. Students are looking forward to cultivating a green thumb with programs such as Plant Party, where participants decorate pots and plant flowers. Students have engaged in other creative activities like mug making. First-year student Emmanuel White has enjoyed these campus programs, saying, “It has been a long time since I explored my creative side, but I’ve really enjoyed myself.” White and many other students are looking forward to participating in future spring programming events and activities such as yoga and game nights.

Students Gear up for Graduation
Given that it has been more than a year since the pandemic began, it was not surprising to learn that commencement would be held virtually again this May. Students completely understand that safety and security measures need to be taken and precautions upheld, despite encouraging information regarding rising vaccination numbers. In response to the decision, many students are finding ways to celebrate graduation together virtually and are becoming creative with ways to commemorate their experiences at RBC. Whether hosting parties with their immediate housemates, social media send-offs, or photo shoots around campus, everyone is trying their best to commemorate and celebrate graduation. The RBC community is refusing to allow less than ideal circumstances to halt celebration or dampen the feeling of pride in our graduates and their achievement. The Statesman Spotlight, produced on social media by Residence Life, is one way of exhibiting the achievements of soon-to-be graduating students. One student recently highlighted is Calvin Jester. The post shared his future academic and career goals, as well as pictures from his time at RBC. This is only one of many ways graduating RBC students can connect with and inspire those incoming, and non-residential students, to learn more about RBC before visiting campus.

Graduates Reflect
As we reach the mid-point in the semester, second-year students begin to reflect on their time at RBC and prepare for graduation. With most transfer applications submitted, many take the time to ponder their impact at RBC, and the impact the College has had on them. One of these students is Kelsey Watts, a second-year Promise Scholar. “RBC has made me more independent, challenged me academically, and has put me out of my comfort zone at times,” she says. Watts feels she has made an impact at RBC by contributing to the school community as a community service volunteer and being active in campus programming the past two years. “I have really liked taking part in the culture here that invites people to try new things and meet others. If RBC was a four-year college, I’d love to stay here! While I am looking forward to graduation (though online), it makes all the hard work worth it.” Fellow graduate Jason Kellerhalls is also preparing for graduation this semester. He raves about his experiences with faculty on campus, saying his professors have had an enormous impact on his life at RBC. Jason credits them with taking a personal interest in helping him become a well-rounded student and preparing him for his future career. Jason has made his mark at RBC as a chemistry and Spanish tutor, experiences he says have been “very enjoyable and rewarding.”

One Year After
For those all around the world, this past year has been truly unfathomable. Higher education has been impacted tremendously, and the RBC community is no exception. Despite having to act quickly and adopt entirely new ways of conducting classes and other school proceedings, RBC students are by and large satisfied with the past year. There have been difficulties, of course, as everyone navigated through what life and higher education meant during a global pandemic. Students agree that, although the effects of events from this past year will be felt for many years to come, the RBC community will continue to overcome any obstacles that arise with grace and resilience together.
APPROVAL OF FY22 OPERATING BUDGET PROPOSAL

The FY22 operating budget for Richard Bland College (RBC) is presented below.

Revenue Budget

Three major sources of revenue support RBC’s operations:

1. state general fund appropriations to support the academic mission (i.e., E&G program) and need-based student financial aid;
2. student tuition and mandatory E&G fees to support the academic mission; and
3. student fees for auxiliary programs, including housing, dining, and student activities.

The FY22 budget reflects state general fund support appropriated for RBC based on final actions of the 2021 General Assembly Session. In addition, it includes anticipated tuition and fee revenue based on 20,000 credit hours for the 2021-2022 academic year.

The auxiliary revenue estimates for FY22 are based on a 70% occupancy level. Other sources of auxiliary revenue are based on student dining contracts and the comprehensive auxiliary fee paid by students, which is used to support athletics, student recreational services, parking, transportation, and other student programs.

In total, projected revenues for FY22 are expected to be $26.9 million as reflected in the table below.

Expenditure Budget

A zero-based budgeting approach was employed to derive the expenditure side of the FY22 operating budget. The FY22 budget reflects anticipated personnel and non-personnel costs by major program (i.e., Educational & General, Financial Aid, and Auxiliary Services).

In total, FY22 expenditures are expected to be $26.9 million as shown in the table below.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that upon recommendation of the President, the Board of Visitors of the College of William & Mary in Virginia approves the FY22 (2021-22) operating budget for Richard Bland College.
APPROVAL OF FY22 TUITION & FEES

The following Tuition and Fees are recommended by the RBC President and administration to meet the FY22 (2021-2022) funding requirements for academic programs, student support services, and auxiliary services. This funding enables the College to continue to advance its mission and the 2020-2025 strategic plan (Seize Your Potential) goals. The pricing strategy is intended to optimize affordability and educational excellence for students.

The proposed FY22 in-state Tuition and Mandatory E&G Fees per credit hour rate of $200 constitutes no increase to the current FY21 rates and remains one of the lowest in the Commonwealth. To remain competitive and to keep out-of-state Tuition and Mandatory E&G Fees appropriately aligned with that of in-state Tuition and Mandatory E&G Fees, the out-of-state tuition per-credit-hour rate will remain at $386. Furthermore, to promote traditional online offerings as well as the new RBC Online program, distinct online Tuition and Mandatory E&G Fees categories were established during the FY21 year and remains constant with a per-credit-hour rate of $199.

For FY22, it is recommended that mandatory Auxiliary Comprehensive fees for in-state and out-of-state students increase by 3% to a per-credit-hour rate of $72.

For FY22, pricing for all residential rooms will remain equal to the current FY21 rates. All residents will be required to purchase a meal plan. The meal plan cost will remain unchanged as well.

A proposed FY22 tuition and fee summary sheet is attached.

RBC’s goal remains to deliver high quality educational programming, high-value university pathways and innovative delivery models to students while simultaneously minimizing student cost.

WHEREAS, the President and the Board of Visitors recognize that unforeseen post-COVID financial circumstances may impact students and their families, requiring the College to adjust or reconsider non-mandatory fees and charges;
WHEREAS, maintaining FY22 tuition and mandatory E&G fees at current FY 2021 levels, with a low 3% increase of mandatory Auxiliary Comprehensive fees, will result in no significant increase for the College’s returning or incoming students;

THEREFORE BE RESOLVED, that upon recommendation of the President, the Board of Visitors of the College of William & Mary in Virginia approves the FY22 (2021-2022) Tuition and Fee Summary as presented for Richard Bland College for the FY22 fiscal year; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the President or designee are granted the authority and the discretion to determine whether non-mandatory fees will be waived or applied for courses, programs, and activities

APPROVAL OF NAMING OF BUILDING – PECAN HALL

A former laundry building converted into classrooms and studios in 1965, currently housing the offices of the cashier, financial aid, admissions and human resources on campus at Richard Bland College, shall be officially named Pecan Hall.

The current appearance of the building, which is painted white with a porch and a balcony that extend the length of the building’s façade, with stairways to the second story at either end, is a far cry from the original laundry facility. The first floor of the building houses a reception area, restroom accommodations and cashier and financial aid offices. The second floor houses the offices of admissions and human resources.

Col. James M. Carson, director of the college in 1965, stated in a Progress Index article, “No doubt they’ll come up with an appropriate and picturesque name for the converted laundry building, maybe something to do with the big farm bell attached to one end of the roof,” but the naming of the building never occurred and, over time, the building’s location, nestled in RBC’s historic pecan grove, suggested its name.

The picturesque campus of Richard Bland College is home to Virginia’s oldest and largest pecan grove, inspiring the name “Pecan Hall” for the former laundry building that has over time been transformed into an important building for fulfilling the College’s mission.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that upon recommendation of the President, the Board of Visitors of the College of William & Mary approves the naming of Pecan Hall.
Plan | President’s 2020-2021 Goals | In Motion | 10/28/2020

1 | Goal | Safeguard student and employee health while fulfilling educational mission and demonstrating responsible fiscal stewardship during the COVID-19 pandemic | In Motion | 10/28/2020

1.1 | Tactic | In partnership with external health advisers and providers, conscientiously execute the Statesman Safe & Secure plan. | In Motion | 9/14/2020 | Statesmen Safe and Secure implemented

1.1.1 | Tactic | Execute on Statesmen Safe and Secure Plan | In Motion | Move from baseline of 0% to target of 100% | 85% | 1/6/2021 | Jeffrey Brown

The Safe and Secure Plan, as approved by SCHEV, was placed in operation in August, 2020, as the fall semester began. The plan requires implementation of CDC and VDH protocols across campus.

Learning has occurred in a variety of formats - synchronous, asynchronous, hybrid, in-seat and virtual. Faculty have been trained in the use of virtual and hybrid teaching strategies.

De-densification of academic buildings has occurred by arranging class meeting on a Monday - Wednesday and Tuesday - Thursday format with labs and exams offered on Fridays. The days have been lengthened to accommodate foot traffic and buildings have designated entrances and exits to prevent unnecessary crowding.

De-densification of the residence halls has been accomplished by providing one student - one room. In the event a student becomes symptomatic, the student can isolate or quarantine in their room without the need to move to a special safe area. Student Success and Residence Life staff serve as case managers for students that test positive or are in quarantine for possible exposure. Case managers provide wrap around support with all needs while the student is recovering.

Social distancing has been executed across campus - floor markers have been placed on the floors where queuing occurs; desks and chairs have been removed and arranged to ensure a 6’ distance between each in academic and administrative buildings. Sneeze shields, cleaning supplies, enhanced cleaning by housekeeping staff are other ways to maintain a virus-free environment. The Cafe has outside seating and take out options for patrons.

A face covering policy has been approved and implemented for all students, faculty and staff and community members have been in compliance.

The College entered into an Agreement with VCUHealth to provide virtual tele-med service to students that become symptomatic. The attending physician is able to schedule the student for a PCR test at a VCUHealth clinic, as necessary. The College is also in an agreement with VSU for the administration of Abbott BinaxNOW rapid testing.
A daily attestation has been implemented for all students, faculty and staff, requiring them to check for COVID symptoms on a daily basis. Thermometers have been distributed across the campus and a touchless stand alone thermometer is located in the library for any community member to use.

Administrative units have developed alternating schedules for employees and telework options, as managed by department heads, have been put in place.

The Athletic program has been suspended to prevent unnecessary transmission of the COVID virus in sporting activities.

The Safe and Secure Task Force meets as necessary to adjust the Plan. On January 12, 2021, the Task Force met to review the Plan for the spring '21 semester. The Task Force recommended to the COVID-19 Emergency Management Team to provide virtual instruction for the first week of classes due to the high positivity rate and increasing number of new cases in the Crater Health District. These recommendations were adopted and a message to the community was issued on January 15, 2021.

4.1 Objective
The Current Ratio is a measure of fiscal health, specifically liquidity, that represents the organization’s ability to meet its short-term obligations given its short-term resources available. A current ratio of 1 or higher indicates the organization has the short-term resources to meet its short-term obligations. Using the accepted metric, RBC will use this ratio as one measure to gauge performance and implement strategies to maintain fiscal health.
4.2 Objective

100% of all RBC administrative units will define, execute and evaluate an effectiveness assessment annually. Continuous improvement of all operational units is critical for sustained growth, innovation, and student satisfaction.
