Choose one session for each time block.

A1/B1 Academic Advising

Kaplan Arena 25

Learn how the faculty advising system can help you plan your course schedule to reach academic goals and maximize the registration process.

A2/B2 A Diverse & Flourishing Community

Sadler Center, Tidewater Room 4

The Center for Student Diversity partners with over 50 student organizations focused on social justice and diversity. Learn about the programs, services and activities that foster belonging across campus.

A3 An Active Life: Intercollegiate Athletics & Campus Recreation

Zable Stadium, President's Suite 6

From boxing and spin classes to weight training and cardio equipment, Campus Recreation has everything you need for fitness and fun. We also offer dozens of club sports, hundreds of intramural leagues and a Division I athletics program.

B3 Elevate Your Game Through W&M Esports

Integrated Science Center (ISC), Room 1127 9

The world of organized competitive video gameplay requires critical thinking and creativity, skills most companies and industries are seeking in our changing world. This could be your opportunity to take on some of our Division I varsity players for a chance to win W&M Esports swag. GAME ON!

A4/B4 Fine & Performing Arts

Music Arts Center, Concert Hall 34

Meet with faculty and students from W&M's art, dance, music and theatre departments. Learn about opportunities to major, minor, join a group or an ensemble, pursue elective coursework and more.

A5 Say Yes and Enroll Today! Find Out What's Next!

Alumni House, Hunter Hall J

Are you ready to join W&M's Class of 2028? We will give you an overview of the experiences, resources and services that will be available to you as a first-year student. From making new friends and exploring new talents to finding your niche at W&M, this is a session you won't want to miss!

B5 You're Enrolled at W&M! What's Next?

Alumni House, Hunter Hall J

You've enrolled at W&M; now this is your chance to get an overview of what's to come! From new student orientation to navigating your Tribe Guide checklist and making new friends, you will learn about all of the exciting opportunities in the weeks and months ahead.

A6/B6 Research & Scholarship

Miller Hall (Raymond A. Mason School of Business), Brinkley Commons 11

Start research as early as your first year! Interact with students and faculty who work with external partners (from the State Department to the World Wildlife Fund and more) to learn how you can join a research team and make a difference in the world.

A7/B7 STEM & Data at W&M

Sadler Center, Chesapeake Room 4

William & Mary offers cutting-edge STEM programs and research opportunities for students to learn and thrive in the classroom, in the lab and with future employers.

A7: Learn about how we are meeting the growing demands of our data-driven world through computer science, applied science and physics.

B7: Explore the world of physical sciences from bacteria to brains.

A8/B8 Study Abroad & International Opportunities

Sadler Center, Commonwealth Auditorium 4

With more than 45 study abroad programs, it's no wonder that W&M students consistently study abroad at rates higher than most other public universities in the U.S.! Join us as we discuss a wide range of opportunities you will have on campus and around the world.

Integrated Science Center (ISC), Room 1221 9

A9 Mock Lecture: Out of Left Field

Step up to the plate to learn how cultures can come together through sports. This session will talk about the U.S.-Japan Baseball Diplomacy Project, which analyzes the interaction between baseball, politics and international relations.

B9 Mock Lecture: Flesh of the World

What does it mean to have a body? This session explores how we experience the world through our senses, scale, proportion and harmony, and how we derive forms, be they sculptural or functional, from our bodies. Throughout, we investigate the role materials and formative processes play in creating art and how this activity can be seen as a form of research and communication.

Session Block C

SESSION BLOCK C: 12:35-1:15 p.m.

Choose one session.

C1 Sustainability Initiatives

Sadler Center, Tidewater Room 4

W&M is at the forefront of transformational research and education that advances sustainability efforts and solves real-world issues. Learn more about how students are involved with these important initiatives.

C2 From the Colonial Capital to the Nation's Capital: W&M's Washington Center

Sadler Center, Chesapeake Room 4

Fondly referred to as W&M's Campus in the City, the Washington Center serves as home base for a variety of programs throughout the year that take advantage of Washington, D.C.'s breadth of resources. Learn about all the experiential learning opportunities available.

C3 Marine Sciences at W&M

Integrated Science Center (ISC), Room 1127 9

Interested in marine science? Learn more about the programs and research offered through W&M's School of Marine Science at the Virginia Institute of Marine Science (VIMS). VIMS is among the largest marine research and education centers in the country.
