Elizabeth researched other programs and was not able to find any that offer academic credit for ROTC.

Proposal sent back for more context and clearer academic content. John D. asked if they are considering the proper course number. Tuska suggests there is no evidence of the academic content. Corey notes they already have a 404 Independent Study available for one credit and perhaps that is the more appropriate place for the course to take place. Elizabeth checked CNU catalog (director oversees both W&M and CNU programs) did not find any evidence of a course.
