

A&S VISION STATEMENT
1999

Consistent with the College's mission statement and Planning Principles, the College of William and Mary will remain a mid-sized public university. We will rightfully be considered among the best undergraduate colleges, public or private, with a curriculum focusing on the liberal arts and sciences. Each graduate program will be nationally recognized, nationally competitive, and continually striving for excellence. We will compete successfully for and retain the best students and faculty for all programs. Our graduates will be highly sought-after, liberally educated, and satisfied with their educational experiences.
