Arts & Sciences Faculty Grants Fund

You are invited to submit a proposal for funding by providing the answers requested below.

Successful proposals are focused on individual or collaborative projects (one proposal per project) that are aligned with your contractual obligations (research, teaching, service) in Arts & Sciences. Awards range from several hundred dollars (e.g., research supplies, instructional materials) to a maximum of $4,000 (e.g., research field trips, participation in a professional conference, attendance at a workshop).

The A&S Faculty Grants Fund proposals will be assessed in relation to:

- Potential for your professional transformation
- Contribution to the liberal arts and sciences mission of Arts & Sciences
- Degree of student involvement
- Extent of interdisciplinary focus
- Extent of collaboration with colleagues
- Potential for enhancing W&M reputation for research or teaching
- Positive impact on the W&M community

Please note that the Faculty Grants Fund is not appropriate for curricular or unit programmatic initiatives. A plan for funding requests for course and programmatic initiatives, including COLL course and co-curricular support, as well as May Seminars, will be shared no later than September 30. In the meantime, please hold relevant questions and requests. Thank you!

Expenses for a project that spans more than one fiscal year will be covered in the fiscal year they are incurred.
