

GEOARCHAEOLOGY

The study of past human activity by excavating, dating, and interpreting objects from the past using scientific methods developed in earth science fields.

<https://www.uib.no/en/rg/quaternary/56421/geoarchaeology>

- ★ Multidisciplinary field which introduces geological/physical science methods to archaeological studies
 - Subcategories: geology, geography anthropology, sedimentology, geomorphology
- ★ Degrees required
 - Bachelor's degree for entry-level work
 - Master's and Doctoral degrees for high-level work/academia
- ★ Important skills/certifications:
 - Internships
 - Critical and analytical thinking
 - Comfort in a field environment

GEOARCHAEOLOGY

★ Statistics:

- Median Salary: $61,910 per year
- Job Outlook: 6%
- ~800 job openings per year

★ Similar Jobs:

- Environmental Scientist: $73,230 per year
- Geographer: $85,430 per year
- Geoscientist: $93,580 per year

★ Job Opportunities

- Local: James River Institute for Archeology, Colonial Williamsburg Foundation
- Regional: POWER Engineers (Richmond)
- Nationwide: Tetra Tech, USGS

<https://www.sciencedirect.com/topics/social-sciences/geoarchaeology>

<https://www.bls.gov/ooh/life-physical-and-social-science/anthropologists-and-archeologists.htm>

<https://www.glassdoor.com/index.htm>