

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS AND GLOBAL STUDIES
COMPUTER PROFICIENCY REQUIREMENT

The Computer Proficiency Requirement (CPR) in International Relations and Global Studies should be filed with the International Relations and Global Studies office before your senior year and in no case later than the beginning of the final semester before graduation.

IR/GS majors may satisfy the computer proficiency requirement in one of two ways:

- (1) By completing Computer Science 131 or higher; or
- (2) By fulfilling the computing requirement for a department that offers courses in your particular major. The following is a list of departments and courses that may meet the requirements, depending on your major. Please check each department's website for the most up-to-date list of courses that satisfies the CPR.

Anthropology Anth 300 or any computer intensive course: 301, 302, 366 or 454

Business: Buad 231, 330

Economics: Econ 307, 308

Government: Lab (L) sections of Govt: 201L, 203L, 204L or 301, 307, 465

History: Hist 212-06, 330-01, 386-01, 418-01, 491-05 (Subject to change each semester. Courses which meet the CPR are indicated as such in the "attributes" column on Banner.)

Modern Languages: Mdll 250 (1 credit)

Music: One seminar in Music Research): Musc 345 (4 credits)

Philosophy: Two 400-level seminar courses with a grade of C- or better and a certified word processed paper for each course

Religious Studies: The following courses with a grade of C- or better: Relg 302, 305, 317, 318, 322, 326, 328, 332, 334, 340, 345, 346, 358, 361, 391, 495/496.

Sociology: Socl 353 or an approved equivalent statistics course

Theater: Thea 306, 309, 314 or 320

Name (print clearly): _____ Date: _____

Graduation Date: Month _____ Year _____ Student ID#: _____

Major: 1) _____ 2) _____

Phone #: _____ E-mail address: _____

I intend to fulfill this requirement with the following course:

Course Department #: _____

Course name: _____

Department APPROVAL: _____ Date: _____