

Behavioral Research Advancements in Neuroscience (BRAIN)

Undergraduate Summer Research Program

May 29-July 27, 2007

Research conducted at CBN member institutions in Atlanta, GA

Students earn $3,000 stipends upon program completion.

To apply, log on to <http://www.cbn-atl.org/education/brain.shtml>.

Browse the website above for further information or contact:

Shana Basnight, CBN Undergraduate Program Coordinator, at sbasnig@emory.edu or call 404.727.3936.

Women and underrepresented minorities encouraged to apply. Applications due March 1, 2007.

Sponsored by the Center for Behavioral Neuroscience

The Atlanta-based Center for Behavioral Neuroscience is a consortium of seven institutions in the metro-Atlanta area including: Georgia State University, Emory University, Georgia Institute of Technology, Spelman College, Morehouse School of Medicine, Morehouse College and Clark Atlanta University.