Well known memory keeping options reject permanence and have disturbing terms of service, including Apple iCloud.

“Apple may at any time, under certain circumstances and without prior notice, immediately terminate or suspend all or a portion of your Account.”

“You agree that your Account is non-transferable and that any rights to your Content within your Account terminate upon your death.”

TO THE GREATEST EXTENT PERMISSIBLE BY APPLICABLE LAW, APPLE DOES NOT GUARANTEE OR WARRANT THAT ANY CONTENT YOU MAY STORE OR ACCESS THROUGH THE SERVICE WILL NOT BE SUBJECT TO INADVERTENT DAMAGE, CORRUPTION, LOSS, OR REMOVAL IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE TERMS OF THIS AGREEMENT, AND APPLE SHALL NOT BE RESPONSIBLE SHOULD SUCH DAMAGE, CORRUPTION, LOSS, OR REMOVAL OCCUR. It is your responsibility to maintain appropriate alternate backup of your information and data.”

FOREVER™

“You retain full ownership of and all intellectual property rights to the Content you store using FOREVER Services”

“FOREVER provides a guarantee of preservation for your FOREVER Account and Content, and enables you to control how your Content is preserved during your lifetime and after your death.”

“FOREVER guarantees that Content will be preserved and accessible... in your FOREVER Account for the lifetime of the FOREVER Account Owner and 100 years thereafter (“Guarantee Period”).”

*Current Terms of Service as of April 18, 2017

“You can delete your account any time. When you delete your account, we delete things you have posted, such as your photos and status updates.”

“We do our best to keep Facebook safe, but we cannot guarantee it.”

“You give us permission to use your name, profile picture, content, and information in connection with commercial, sponsored, or related content (such as a brand you like) served or enhanced by us. This means, for example, that you permit a business or other entity to pay us to display your name and/or profile picture with your content or information, without any compensation to you. If you have selected a specific audience for your content or information, we will respect your choice when we use it.

* Current Terms of Service as of January 30, 2015

“We may terminate the Agreement or restrict, suspend, or terminate your use of the Services at our discretion without notice at any time.”

“If your Service Plan is restricted, suspended, or terminated, you may be unable to access Your Files and you will not receive any refund of fees or any other compensation.”

* Current Terms of Service as of April 18, 2017

“When you upload, submit, store, send or receive content to or through our Services, you give Google (and those we work with) a worldwide license to use, host, store, reproduce, modify, communicate, publish, publicly perform, publicly display, and distribute such content.”

“This license continues even if you stop using our service.”

“Our automated systems analyze your content (including emails)... This analysis occurs as the content is sent, received, and when it is stored.”

“Google may also stop providing Services to you, or add or create new limits to our Services at any time.”

* Current Terms of Service as of April 18, 2017
