

W&M Study in DC Day

Bringing Washington to Williamsburg

Friday
April 8, 2016

Looking for a way to CAPITAL-ize on DC during your time at William & Mary? Learn more as we bring Washington to Williamsburg! Find staff, faculty, and former students all over campus for more information on ways to Study in DC! The best part — EVERYTHING IS FREE!

8 am–11 am      Cup O' Joe Biden

Stop by the Sunken Garden, Swem Library, and the Sadler Terrace for free coffee and donuts on your way to your morning class.

12 pm–2 pm      We, the Pizza

Like us on social media and grab a free slice of pizza at Swem Library and the Sadler Terrace.

1 pm–5 pm      Meet the Press

W&M Washington Center and the Flat Hat welcome you to “Engaging with Media as Citizen Scholars, Featuring CBS Reporter Paula Reid '05,” presented by Professor Drew Stelljes at the Sadler Center, Tidewater A.

2 pm–5 pm      Putin on a Matinee

Join Upcoming DC Semester Program Professor Fred Corney (History), for a discussion on the Cold War with Andrew Weiss, VP for Studies at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, and a screening of the Oscar-nominated Bridge of Spies at the Sadler Center, Chesapeake B.

5 pm–7 pm      Monumental Fridays @ Five

Join us at Fridays @ Five for free Georgetown Cupcakes and live music on the Sadler Terrace.

6 pm      Our Nation's Pastime

Catch a foul ball or maybe some Study in DC swag at Plumeri Park for the Tribe Baseball game vs. UNCW.

7 pm      Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of the Lacrosse Ball

Support Study in DC and the Tribe Women's Lacrosse team vs. Hofstra at Martin Family Stadium at Albert Daly Field.

8:30 pm–10 pm      The Affordable Dinner Act

Come with a former Study in DC student for a free dinner at The Crust.
