

W&M Summer Program in Galway Summer 2027

Estimated dates (subject to change): June 13 to July 10, 2027

GEO will work with the host institution/onsite partners to confirm dates in fall 2026, which may vary somewhat from estimated dates.

Size of Program: Has ranged over two years from 20 – 25 students.

In light of COLL300, programs are designed to be accessible to as many eligible students as possible. Group size is determined based on an overseas partner's ability to accommodate and support groups. This program's current estimated capacity is 25 students.

Host Institution: University of Galway, Ireland

Overview of Program One W&M faculty member serves as program director (PD) and teaches a 3-credit course in the program as well as a 1-credit preparatory course in spring 2027.

Courses and credits: Students choose two courses, for a total of 6 credits. Students receive W&M grades and credits for the W&M faculty taught course and transfer credits for the University of Galway course; courses may not be taken pass-fail.

Housing: Students are housed in University of Galway student residences.

Excursions/Activities: past excursions included overnight trip to Dublin. Daytrips arranged by University of Galway as a part of their international summer school (ex: Aran Islands, Connemara, and Cliffs of Mohr) along with other local cultural activities.

COLL 300 All W&M programs teaching undergraduate students are expected to meet COLL 300 requirements. Course content will not be the only or the main consideration when evaluating the COLL 300 designation; other aspects of programs such as activities and excursions will also be considered. Academic experiences include the course, assignments, course-related excursions, guest speakers or local faculty, engagement with members of the local community, and co-curricular cultural activities connected to the objectives of COLL 300.

The approved language for COLL 300 is as follows:

"COLL 300 courses explore the diverse perspectives and socio-cultural values of people and communities of countries outside the geographical boundaries of the United States, and/or within the geographical boundaries of the United States for the study of sovereign Native nations, indigenous communities, and five US territories or sub-national entities.

COLL 300 directly connects students with people, places, and ideas that enhance their comprehension of different ways of thinking and being in the world. Students synthesize their knowledge, their emerging expertise in framing questions for analysis, and their communication skills to engage global issues in a self-reflective, cross-cultural way.

Students will be able to:

- demonstrate an understanding of how people across cultures and societies experience the world
- make connections between those perspectives and course content
- analyze how cultural and societal differences manifest globally
- reflect on their own identity as global citizens COLL 300"

COLL 300 experiences will ideally join students with people, places, and ideas (all three).

COLL 300 courses should have a self-reflective assignment built into them. (Approved by FAS March 2021.)”

In addition, Summer 2027 Program Directors will need to be on campus in fall 2027 to meet with the future Program Director and participate in recruiting events.

Because the position of Program Director represents a full-time commitment, faculty members selected as PDs may not undertake any other teaching assignment, additional onsite student research projects, or research appointment during the time the program is in session.

Preferred: in-country or regional experience.

Preferred: experience in overseas studies program direction/administration/site review.

Meal supplement and housing are provided for an additional 2 days on request.

Depending on exact program dates and possible adjustments to overall A&S summer teaching rates, this figure is subject to change. The quoted rates are based on estimated 2026 expenses.

All monetary amounts are subject to change.

Housing allowance (unless prearranged through the program, based on the lowest possible rates for one-bedroom accommodations): up to $6,000. Housing costs for spouse/dependents/guests that incur any additional charges will be the direct responsibility of the Program Director.

Virginia state regulations require family members who accompany you to Galway or on any of the group activities to make their own arrangements and cover their own expenses. In addition, due to the full-time commitment of the program director to the program, including handling emergencies at all hours, it is expected that 24/7 care for dependents and family members by someone other than the PD be arranged by the PD at his/her own cost.
