

Student Affairs Update

BOARD OF VISITORS MEETING
NOVEMBER 19, 2009

Responding to H1N1

- H1N1 Vaccine arrived this week – 3000 doses
- High Risk Students vaccinated 1st
- Evening and day-long clinics held for students
- Special clinic for high risk faculty and staff
- Prevention education efforts continue
- No students hospitalized with H1N1

Toward Engaged Leadership

“OUR STUDENTS COME WANTING TO CHANGE THE WORLD AND WILL LEAVE
WITH THE TOOLS TO DO IT.”

W&M VISION STATEMENT

Campus Environment

“Leadership skills are needed in virtually all areas of adult life .”

*Leadership Reconsidered:
Engaging Higher Education in Social Change*

Astin & Astin (2000)

Consider . . .

- Self-determination in Res Halls
- Student Government
- Interest groups and organizations
- Honor Code Administration
- Self-designed majors
- Peer-to-Peer Education
- Support for student initiatives, both in and out of class

Opportunities

“Leadership is no longer the province of the few . . .”

Astin & Astin (2000)

- Elected Leadership
- Appointed Leadership
- Hired Leadership
- Accomplished Leadership
- Charismatic Leadership
- Intellectual Leadership
- Created Leadership

Individual Qualities

“Future leaders will not only need to possess knowledge and skills, but will also be called upon to display a high level of emotional and spiritual wisdom and maturity.”

Astin & Astin (2000)

- Student Leadership Foundation
- Women’s Leadership Program
- Men’s Leadership Program
- Greek Leadership Institute
- LEAP Leadership Series
- National Conference Attendance
- RAIL – Recognizing Achievement in Leadership
- TRAIN – Peer Leadership Development
- SARA – Student Activities Resource Area

From the Leaders' Perspective

RACHEL BECKER
JENNIFER ADDISON
BEAU BLUMBERG

“With increasing efficacy, the College must help its students develop as leaders, both in class and out – in civic engagement, athletics, the arts, and international programs; and the College must provide its students with opportunities to explore, experiment, take risks, build teams, and lead change.”

Taylor Reveley, President