During his Town & Gown lecture on March 22, Taylor W. Reveley III reflected on his time as the 27th President of William & Mary. CWA students learned about the successes and challenges the university faces as it strides into the future.

First Ever CWA Summer Session This June

Nine wide-ranging courses are being offered June 4 through June 22. For the first time, students will be charged per course instead of a fee for the semester. Registration is on a first-come, first-served basis, and you may register for as many courses as you like. It's also a great opportunity to introduce a friend to CWA! More details to come.

Why We Love the CWA!!

A Few Thoughts from Two CWA Members

"When deciding to downsize and move closer to family, on our wish list was a college town. We had been involved in many activities and events from local colleges and wanted to continue. So we moved to Williamsburg which has several institutions of higher education.

We did not know of the CWA program before we moved. Now we feel like we hit the lottery on a blind quick pic! The offerings are diverse and well presented.

The volunteers are awesome. The discussions are meaningful. This program for lifelong learning has been just wonderful.

Thanks to William & Mary for sponsoring, thanks to the staff for your hard work and thanks to the volunteers who share their talents and expertise with the community. We are so grateful!"

Jadi Johnson

“The Williamsburg area has a hidden treasure in the Christopher Wren Association classes offered through William & Mary! I am in my second session of class offerings and am amazed at the enthusiasm of the instructors and the knowledge that they share. The quality of the material and its presentation are incredible! Thank you for making this available to our community.”

Instructor Appreciation Reception

Come and show your appreciation to your instructors on Monday, May 14th! Watch your email for more information.

Welcome Back!

This fall we hope to see a longtime CWA instructor John Livecchi (above right) back in the classroom! John starting teaching literature courses for CWA in 2007, and he stepped down in 2015 due to health issues. While John was recuperating, he used his time wisely and pulled together his many years of poems. They are now published in a book, an autographed copy of which he graciously gave to our Program Chair, Scott Langhorst (above left.) The book will be coming out soon to a Barnes & Noble near you!

We are encouraging John to not only teach literature, but to consider a poetry writing course! Either way, we are happy to have you back, John!

A Letter From CWA President Wil Larkin

An email was sent on Friday, March 19 to our CWA members regarding some news with our relationship with William & Mary.

Did You Know?
The Wren Building

Tradition has it that the building was designed by the famed English architect Sir Christopher Wren who designed St. Paul's Cathedral in London. The Sir Christopher Wren Building at William & Mary is the oldest college building still standing in the United States and the oldest of the restored public buildings in Williamsburg.

In 1990 the CWA steering committee chose the name Christopher Wren Association based on the iconic Wren Building and Sir Christopher Wren's experience as an educator.

Reminders

Please remember to turn off your cell phone during class. It is very distracting to the Instructors.

Be considerate of others around you with noise and other activities that may be a visual or audio distraction to them.

Thank you in advance!

Farewell to CWA Staff Member

Marna Ashburn left the staff of CWA last month in order to return to her field of writing and editing. She’ll be remaining in Williamsburg and working remotely for her publisher, Rowman & Littlefield www.Rowman.com

She hopes to continue seeing everyone around town and invites you to stay in touch at her two blogs.
