CWA Takes Flight

CWA Instructor Greg Mays and his son Ethan demonstrated the mechanics of flying a drone. Several of the class members (Ed Kaye, Tom Campbell and Bob Daniel pictured below) plus others were able to test out their flying skills as well.
Book Lovers Bids
Farewell to Bob

The Book Lovers Group had their last session with our beloved Bob Carboni on December 6. The group had dessert and presented Bob with both a gift certificate and a book donated to the Williamsburg Regional Library in his honor.

Bob expressed his appreciation for all the support from his faithful followers over the last 13 years and the thoughtfulness of his gifts. Bob will not be gone from us completely. He plans to participate as a CWA member in the future.

Thank You to Our CWA Fall 2017 Instructors
CWA members gathered on Monday, December 11 at Legacy Hall in New Town to show their appreciation for our wonderful instructors who volunteer their time and talents with us.

CWA Public Relations Extends Beyond Virginia

Thanks to Gordon Bratz, current member of CWA Public Relations and Marketing Committee, CWA has received exposure nationwide from an article he authored which was picked up online for the Military Officers Association of America (MOAA) magazine.

In Memory of Bill Sasser

As we end one year and prepare to welcome another, we stop to recognize the contributions of longtime instructor Bill Sasser. We wish his family peace, and we offer gratitude for his service.

Bill Krantz, his co-instructor writes, “Bill Sasser, a faithful Christopher Wren volunteer died on 28 November 2017. Bill presented courses on Western Movies for 12 years. He was a nationally recognized expert on the genre and on Western Movie locations.

Bill had published articles in Western magazines on both movie and location topics. Bill’s courses brought joy and memories to a great many members of Christopher Wren. He will be missed by many.

He is now riding with Roy, Gene & Hoppy!”
