Ongoing Display

“We Willed It Not”: World War I in the Everyday (Swem Library)

Through diaries, letters, photographs and poems from Swem Library’s Special Collections, the exhibit highlights how the Great War overshadowed the lives of students, farmers, homemakers, nurses, poets and politicians. As trench and submarine warfare churned once tranquil surfaces, individuals engaged in the conflict by sending supplies, prayers, loved ones and even themselves to aid the effort. Exhibit photos available here.

Veterans Day - Sunday, November 11th

11th Hour at the Wren, 11:00am (Wren Building)

Student Veterans of William and Mary will host a memorial bell ringing in remembrance of the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month of 1918 when the armistice declared an end to WWI.

100th Armistice Day Celebration, 1:30pm -4:30pm (Sunken Garden)

Presented by Student Veterans of William & Mary
Join us for a fun-filled event with military-oriented activities to commemorate 100 years of Armistice Day, which marked the end of hostilities on World War I’s western front.

Monday, November 12th

Raymond A. Mason School of Business Veterans Day Celebration,
12:30pm (Miller Hall, Brinkley Commons)

All Mason School graduate students, faculty, staff and executive partners who are active duty/reserve/guard are welcome and asked to attend in uniform. Light refreshments will be served and a group photo taken.

Law School Toast to Veterans, 12:50pm (Law school lobby)

On Veterans’ Day, the Law School will host its traditional toast, this year given by Paul Hutter, with Law Capella performing. Please join us for cake and cider as we hear from Mr. Hutter, who spent 38 years in Federal Service as an Army Officer and Senior Executive for DoD and VA, including as General Counsel. He also teaches at the Law School and is a member of the Puller Clinic Advisory Board.